Omaha, Neb – Will the kiss of a beautiful princess turn the frog into a handsome prince? Will the hero be victorious in battle? Come along on the adventure as Maestro Thomas Wilkins and the Omaha Symphony bring music’s timeless tales to life with Symphonic Story Time. Don’t forget to come early and try out the Instrument Petting Zoo.

Plus, the Omaha Symphony has teamed up once again with the Omaha Children’s Museum to help local children create a “homemade instrument band.” Instrument-building stations are set up at the museum (see workshop times below) and in the Holland Center lobby on January 18. Dozens of kids will take over the Holland stage immediately after Symphonic Story Time to play under the direction of Maestro Thomas Wilkins. There is no registration and the only cost is admission to the museum or concert. It will be a fun experience for your children—and a memorable picture for any album and scrapbook!

Homemade Instrument Workshops at Omaha Children’s Museum

January 10 11-11:45 AM and 2-2:45 PM
January 15 6-6:45 PM
January 17 11-11:45 AM and 2-2:45 PM

The Omaha Symphony is a non-profit organization that presents more than 200 live orchestral performances from September through May. In addition to MasterWorks, Symphony Pops, Symphony Rocks, Chamber, Discovery, Casual Classics, West “O” Casual Classics, and Family series concerts, the orchestra tours both Nebraska and Iowa providing education and community engagement concerts and special events.
