

A LIVE EXPERIENCE LIKE NO OTHER

2025/26 SEASON

OMAHA
SYMPHONY

Dear Friends,

It is with great pleasure and excitement that I welcome you to the Omaha Symphony's 2025/26 Season!

As I begin in my new role as Principal Guest Conductor and Artistic Advisor of the Omaha Symphony, I can't help but be filled with gratitude and enthusiasm. I have beautiful memories of my work in the past with your wonderful orchestra and always felt a profound connection with the musicians. Having the chance to work more closely with this organization is a deep honor.

This season's concerts offer a diverse lineup of programming designed to bring the beauty and transformative power of orchestral music to Omaha, exploring how harmony—both musical and personal—can heal, uplift, and inspire.

I believe that orchestral music has an unparalleled ability to touch the soul and spark new perspectives. As we explore the rich spectrum of orchestral masterpieces this season—from the lush expanses of Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony to the intricate beauty of contemporary composers like Unsuk Chin—we are reminded that music, in all its forms, has the power to guide us to a place of peace and understanding. It is my belief that through these shared experiences, we will not only celebrate the artistry of our musicians but also deepen our connection with each other and the world around us.

I am beyond excited about the opportunities ahead. We'll continue to highlight the extraordinary talent of the Omaha Symphony musicians, who are a source of inspiration for me. Their commitment, artistry, and dedication are at the heart of everything we do. Together, we will explore innovative programs that push boundaries and deepen the impact of live orchestral music. From exhilarating LIVE performances featuring the music of Journey or Elton John to Disney's Frozen in Concert, we'll immerse ourselves in the full range of what the orchestra can express.

As we move forward, I am deeply grateful to all of you – our subscribers, donors, volunteers, and supporters. Your commitment to the Omaha Symphony makes everything possible. Together, we will continue to build a legacy of musical excellence and community connection, ensuring that the Omaha Symphony remains a vibrant and vital cultural force for generations to come.

Thank you for being a part of this extraordinary journey. I am so excited to share a little bit of harmony with you, and I look forward to all that we will experience together.

With heartfelt thanks and warmest regards,

JoAnn Falletta
